

NEWS OF DISTRICT MILITIA

this order will, when receiving this medal, turn in their decoration of Class B. Present holders of decoration of Class A who also have a decoration of Class B will turn in the latter to militia headquarters without delay.

Government employees receiving insignia for qualification in small-arms practice, prize, service medals or bars, or who are placed on duty in compliance with this order, on December 15, will be furnished certificates of service from 7 o'clock p. m. until midnight that date.

Admission to the medal presentation ceremonies in the drill hall at the Center Market Armory next Friday night will be by card. Many women will be present, and their gowns will add another touch of color to the uniforms of officers and men that will serve to make the occasion a brilliant one.

No effort will be made by the District brigade to secure one of the D. P. trophies offered by the powder company of that name in Delaware. One reason advanced by Lieut. Col. S. E. Smiley, the adjutant general, is that there are too few companies in the District brigade with fifty-eight members to make the competition worth while. It is possible that it will be taken up next year.

Should the District National Guard take up aviation upon the completion of plans to that end by the Division of Militia Affairs, officers from the infantry will be detailed as students. This statement was confirmed by Lieut. Col. Smiley, the adjutant general. While the work is primarily that of the Signal Corps, there are but three officers in the District Guard of that branch and the number is considered insufficient.

As with enlisted men, officers will have to promise to remain in the Guard and not enter the field of professional work. This precaution has to be taken in order to prevent a large amount of money and much time being wasted without the Guard receiving full benefit of the services of the officers and men after they have graduated from the aeronautical school.

Brig. Gen. R. K. Evans, General Staff, United States Army, and Chief of the Division of Militia Affairs, War Department, is the second officer to hold the latter position. Brig. Gen. Evans is continuing the able administration inaugurated by Brig. Gen. E. M. Weaver, his predecessor, who is now chief of the Coast Artillery.

Brig. Gen. Evans is a native of Mississippi and was appointed to the Military Academy at West Point on July 1, 1871. He was commissioned second lieutenant in the Twelfth Infantry on June 16, 1873, and a first lieutenant January 8, 1875. He became regimental adjutant on April 1, 1877, and occupied that position until July 1, 1888. He was promoted to captain October 19, 1892, and became major of the Thirtieth Infantry on February 2, 1901. He was transferred to the Twelfth Infantry on July 1, 1901. On October 2, 1901, he was transferred to the Adjutant General's Department. On April 14, 1905, he was promoted to a lieutenant colonel, and was transferred to the Twenty-eighth Infantry on December 17 of the same year. With the rank of brigadier general, he was detailed on January 30, 1910, as Chief of the Division of Militia Affairs.

On May 1, 1907, the designation of the Engineer Corps was changed to Second Infantry. Brig. Gen. Evans continued as its inspector of rifle practice.

On April 1, 1908, the Second Separate Battalion, consisting of three companies, was attached to the Second Infantry, and became known as the Sixth Battalion. On April 2, Lieut. Young was commissioned as its inspector of rifle practice. He was transferred to the Fourth company of the Sixth Battalion, with instructions to recruit the fourth company to complete the battalion. The provisions with which this was done, showed that the idea that the District brigade marched to soldiers' homes after the declaration of war with Spain, April 25, 1898, was not without foundation. Lieut. Young had eighty-two men in line, fully equipped and ready for service.

He was commissioned captain of Company K, First District of Columbia Volunteers, and mustered into the United States service May 12, 1898, and served with his company in the Army of Santiago, and had the distinction of commanding the first detachment of volunteers to enter the city after its surrender.

On October 3, 1900, Capt. Young was commissioned major of the Third Battalion, First Infantry. The First Regiment at that time consisted of only two battalions. Maj. Young recruited three companies for the Third Battalion, receiving the fourth by transfer from the First Regiment. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel, First Infantry, on August 1, 1903.

Lieut. Col. Young has a national reputation as an expert rifle and revolver shot. The Engineer Corps under his direction won the regimental championship of the United States at Seattle, N. J., in 1894, 1895, and 1896. He has been a member of the American team in the international matches in those years.

Lieut. Col. Young is a graduate of the medical department of Columbia University, class of 1888. He has been in the government service for more than a quarter of a century. He was appointed to a clerkship in the Pension Office in 1884, and in 1887 was transferred to the office of the auditor, serving the office of the auditor and in the office of the Secretary.

Brig. Gen. R. K. Evans, General Staff, United States Army, who is chief of the Division of Militia Affairs, War Department, will present the prizes won in the recent competition and the insignia, service medals, won by members of the District National Guard. The presentation ceremonies will take place in the drill hall at Center Market Armory on Friday night, December 15.

The second prize is a striking one, as the medals, medals and ribbons, both officers and men, will appear in dress uniform and wearing their sidearms. The successful teams and individuals will be honored on the occasion. A report to Lieut. Col. Glendie B. Young, First Infantry, N. G. D. C., at the drill hall, not later than 8:15 p. m. They will be formed by him and will be under his command until dismissed at the conclusion of the ceremonies.

Company C, Second Infantry, has been detailed as guard for the ceremonies. The band of the First Infantry will provide the music for the occasion and will furnish the musical programme. The uniform prescribed for officers and men is dress uniform, uniform white standing collar, white gloves, polished black shoes, and sidearms.

BRIG. GEN. R. K. EVANS, General Staff, U. S. A., Chief of the Division of Militia Affairs, War Department.

tion commanders for field, regimental, and battalion staff, and noncommissioned staff and band, and for unassigned officers to company commanders for officers and men of companies, and to commanding officers of separate organizations for their organizations.

Lieut. Col. Glendie B. Young, First Infantry, N. G. D. C., who will be in command at the medal presentation ceremonies next Friday evening at the Center Market Armory, has had long service in the District National Guard, and with his way to his present high rank from an enlisted man.

Lieut. Col. Young began his military career with the National Rifle, of this city, enlisting in April, 1887. He became a corporal on September 4, 1888. He was appointed a first lieutenant on October 1, 1888, and was advanced to the rank of captain October 1, 1890. Lieut. Col. Young was the last captain of that some-time famous organization, which was organized in 1884 and reorganized in 1890. It still exists as a veteran organization, more than a hundred strong. It holds an annual reunion and banquet every June 9, the date of its organization.

Lieut. Col. Young might be said to have two military careers, as he enlisted in the Engineer Corps of the District National Guard on March 8, 1892. He was promoted to corporal August 1 that year, and continuing as a noncommissioned officer until December of the following year, when he was promoted to first lieutenant and inspector of rifle practice.

There will be no further problems in administration subjects given out by Capt. Allison and Love until after the holiday recess.

In response to the request of commanding officers of companies, in which it was stated that more of the services of their noncommissioned officers were required for recruiting and other duties, a circular has been issued by militia headquarters changing the duty and hours in the new infantry drill regulations for the noncommissioned officers' school from weekly to once every two weeks.

The circular says: "Programme of instruction for noncommissioned officers' school: Jan. 1, First Infantry, paragraphs 129 to 179. Jan. 2, Second Infantry, paragraphs 129 to 179.
